large Crowd at Salida to Greet Stewart, Reese, Stark, Dodge and Others—Anti-Machine Men Explain Position

Special to The Gazette:

SALIDA, Colo., Aug. 20.—A large crowd greeted the antimachine Republicans here tonight, and there is little doubt that the meeting will bring about a decided change in sentiment favorable to their candidacies.

Stewart, Reese, Stark, Dodge and others talked to the big crowd, and were pleased with the outlook for the Republican party as shown by the messages brought from other places in the state.

Philip B. Stewart was the drawing card, and brought out continued applause when he went after his opponents in the party because they have failed to make plain to the people where they stand and what they stand for.

The inquiries propounded to Mr. Parks will place that gentleman squarely on one side or the other if he will reply to them. Mr. Stewart, whose nomination as the next governor of Colorado was greeted with prolonged cheers, said:

"We are here with you because you people have a right to know where one who seeks to become your servant stands and what they stand for."

"Where do you stand now? Are you in favor of them?

"2. I am in favor of the recall of all elective officials and members of important commissions who hold office by appointment. How do you stand on this proposition? Are you for it or against it?

"3. I favor a law abolishing the party assembly. You were nominated in this primary law appendix. Do you favor its retention?

"4. I am in favor of an efficient workmen's compensation act by which the industries shall bear the monetary burden of their human sacrifices. Do you favor such a law?

"5. I am in favor of a public utilities law—one that will for instance prohibit the use of passes by politicians and deal fairly by the people as well as the corporations. Do you favor such a law?

"6. I favor the nonpartisan election of all judges. Do you favor this?

"7. I am bitterly opposed to party dictatorship by such men as A. M. Stevenson and Thomas Devine. I regard them as dangerous men politically, and attribute our loss of party strength to their interference and domination as agents of the corporations and other un-American interests they serve. Where do you stand on this proposition? Do you regard these men as being fit to have a voice in the control of councils of the party, whether in the state or nationally?"

Chairman P. Dodge, candidate for congress-at-large, followed Stewart and took up national questions, claiming that the people should vote to make each state a clean unit of strength so that the government in national matters must of necessity be a good one.

OPIUM IN MAIL BAGS

Custom Authorities Find Smugglers Are Using Unique Carriers for Contraband Drug

HONOLULU, Aug. 20.—Smugglers of opium, in their efforts to circumvent the customs authorities at American ports, have been using Uncle Sam's mail bags as carriers of the contraband drug.

Discovery of this method taken by the smugglers was made some time ago but has been kept secret by government officials while an investigation was under way.

On the steamer Manchuria, which arrived at Honolulu on August 8, from the Orient, a mail bag was found which, instead of containing letters, was stuffed with $5,000 worth of opium.

Other mail bags have long been surreptitiously used for this purpose by collusion between postal employees here and at some oriental ports or the bag had been opened aboard the Manchuria during the voyage and mail matter destroyed and the tins of opium substituted. The bag had been manifested from Nagasaki, Japan.

GEN. WOOD TO GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, will accept the invitation of the German government to attend the maneuvers this fall.

ORE IS WORTH $80,000 A TON

PURE SYLVANITE EX-POSED IN ISABELLA

Discovered at 750 Feet One of Richest Strikes in Camp's History

Ore running as high as $40 a pound, or at a rate of $80,000 a ton, has been found in the 750-foot level of the Isabella mine on Bull Hill by Lesses Ben Hill and Alex Olsen of Cripple Creek and G. P. Braun of Chicago. The men were running a crosscut from the Empire state shaft, and the first round of shots disclosed pure sylvanite in cubes one-half of an inch thick. Armed guards are watching the property. The fabulously rich ore may peter out at any time, but the lessees are understood to be on a seven-foot permanent vein, grab samples of which last night assayed $100 a ton, with some parts running as high as $5,000 a ton.

The strike is thought to be the richest ever made in the Cripple Creek district, not even excepting that on the Isabella property some years ago, when a car worth $250,000 was shipped.

E. M. Kirton of this city, is secretary-treasurer of the Isabella Mines company, while E. E. Quentin and A. C. Gardner, both of Denver, are president and general manager, respectively. Mr. Gardner went to Cripple Creek last night to investigate the discovery.

Reports were current for the last two days that a strike had been made in the property, and the stock advanced materially on the Mining Exchange when it became known that rich ore was exposed last Saturday. About 40,000 shares changed hands Monday at from 20 to 20½ cents, an advance of several cents over the preceding quotations, and yesterday 83,500 shares were sold, with the price going up to 21½.

REFUSES TAFT'S REQUEST

Senate Committee on Interceanic Canals Will Not Report Resolution Asked For

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The Panama joint resolution asked for by President Taft yesterday in a special message to Congress to make clear the rights of foreign ship owners to carry into American courts the question of free tolls in the Panama canal, was turned down late today by the Senate committee on interceanic canals.

By a vote of eight to six, the committee decided not to report the resolution asked for by President Taft. This is taken by leaders of the Senate to mean that there will be no resolution adopted supplementary to the Panama canal bill which now awaits the president's signature. The resolution has not been formally introduced in either house, but the Senate committee took a direct vote on the proposal.

The request of the president was for a special law that would permit the United States courts to determine whether the Panama canal bill in giving free tolls to American coastwise vessels, violated those sections of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty which guarantee equal treatment to the ships of all nations.

On the steamer Manchuria, which arrived at Honolulu on August 8, from the Orient, a mail bag was found which, instead of containing letters, was stuffed with $5,000 worth of opium.

Other mail bags have long been surreptitiously used for this purpose by collusion between postal employees here and at some oriental ports or the bag had been opened aboard the Manchuria during the voyage and mail matter destroyed and the tins of opium substituted. The bag had been manifested from Nagasaki, Japan.

The jury of 12 was drawn this afternoon, and will begin its work Thursday morning. The grand jury is the result of a personal letter written by William P. Daniels, president of the Big Five Tunnel Ore Reduction and Transportation company, and contained heavy charges against city and county officials, both past and present, and local newspapers.

George Clegg, police commissioner, declared tonight that he "would not use the restricted district if indicated by 12 grand juries." Mayor Arnold said:

"I am glad to see a grand jury, but don't think this one will get far." The so-called "Lexow committee," which has been making a secret investigation of municipal affairs for the city, will not appear before the grand jury unless compelled by law to do so, according to the statement of a member of the committee tonight.

HOUSE ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT ON ALASKAN BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The conference report on the Alaska administration bill, providing for two branches of the legislative assembly and a rail-road commission, was adopted today by the house.

Its approval by the Senate and the president's signature will provide "home rule" for Alaska.

HOUSE AGAIN WILL PASS BILL OVER VETO, REPORT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Taft's second veto of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which will be sent in a message to Congress tomorrow, will find the house prepared to pass the bill again over his veto, according to house leaders.

Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, said today that the house undoubtedly would repass the measure.

As the bill went to the president, it provided for the abolition of the commerce court, a procedure to which the president again refused to agree.

The Senate's prospective action on the second veto of the bill was a matter of doubt tonight.

The Senate appropriations committee recommended that the bill be passed Monday exactly as the president desired, but the Senate overturned its committee and put in the commerce court clause by a vote of 35 to 22. This was short of a two-thirds majority, and it is believed the measure cannot be repassed over the veto in the Senate.

The delay over this bill makes the adjournment question tense in both houses, as leaders on each side are eager to get away by Saturday night.

News of Local Courts

Three warrants were sworn out in Justice Dunnings' court yesterday afternoon in connection with the trouble which arose at a picnic at Green Mountain Falls last Sunday, and were turned over to the sheriff's office for service. Two of them are for one Simmons, one charging him with maliciously destroying the windows of a store of M. H. Dusenbury, the other with assault with intent to do bodily injury on M. H. Dusenbury. The third warrant is for Simmons and six others whose names are unknown, charging them with disturbance by fighting and otherwise. The warrants are sworn to by Dusenbury.

In the district court yesterday Nora Shilling and Florence Glazier were fined $5 and costs each for disturbance.

The case of R. B. Ladd vs. John M. G. Gorman and Eddie S. Johnson, a money defrauded suit for $75, has been appealed from Justice Gowdy's court to the county court, August 16, a jury in the justice court decided in favor of the defendants.

Governor Shafroth has signed extradition papers for Harvey W. Thorne, who has been held here for several days for the Oklahoma authorities. The

THE INTENT OF THE PRIMARY LAW

REMEMBER this: THE QUESTION OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS IS NOT INVOLVED IN THE STATEWIDE PRIMARIES TO BE HELD ON SEPTEMBER 10. The names of presidential electors will not appear on the primary ballot.

The purpose and intent of the primary law as drawn by the legislature is: (a) to preserve the secrecy of the ballot, (b) to prevent one party from voting the ticket of the opposite party in order to force upon that party an undesirable candidate.

Under the provisions of the law, therefore, you can vote but one ticket, and this year that ticket must be either a Republican or a Democratic ticket. The law requires that a political party, if it is to appear on the primary ballot, must have cast at least 10 per cent of the votes cast at the preceding general election. This prohibition excludes all except the two parties mentioned from participating in the primaries this year.

KEEP THIS IN MIND: YOU MAY VOTE ONLY A REPUBLICAN OR A DEMOCRATIC TICKET AT THE COMING PRIMARIES.

You will be handed two ballots containing the names of the candidates: a Democratic ballot and a Republican ballot, each containing the designations made by the party assemblies and the names of candidates filed by petition in the respective parties.

In order that Democrats may not vote Republican tickets, or Republicans vote Democratic tickets, in furtherance of a pre-arranged plan to procure a nomination of some candidate dishonestly, the primary law provides a form of oath, in case a voter is challenged, as follows:

"I DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR (OR AFFIRM) THAT I AM A QUALIFIED VOTER, THAT I AM A MEMBER OF AND AFFILIATED WITH ONE OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES REPRESENTED BY BALLOT AT THIS PRIMARY ELECTION, AND THAT I WILL AT THIS ELECTION VOTE ONLY UNDER THE BALLOT AND ONLY FOR THE CANDIDATES OF THE POLITICAL PARTY OF WHICH I AM A MEMBER AND WITH WHICH I AM AFFILIATED."

The reader will note that this oath has no bearing whatever upon his conduct as a voter in the fall election to be held in November. The oath says: "AND THAT I WILL AT THIS ELECTION VOTE ONLY," etc.

When you go into your booth at the election to be held in November the form of ballot will be the same and the law governing the conduct of the election the same as it has been heretofore. The old election law WAS NOT CHANGED, ALTERED OR DISTURBED BY THE NEW PRIMARY LAW.

Your vote at the primary cannot bind you in any way for the fall election.

To illustrate: if you voted a Republican ticket at the primary on September 10 and conditions should arise which led you to believe that you had made a mistake in casting your primary ballot for certain candidates who had manifestly deceived you, you would have the legal and moral right and you would be justified and warranted in voting for some other candidate at the election on Tuesday, November 5.

The vital intent and purpose of a primary law is to permit the people to make their own nominations instead of having the nominations made by conventions packed by the machine in control of parties as has been too frequently the case.

At the coming primaries it is extremely important that the people of Colorado should go to the polls and register their votes for good men who will guarantee clean government.

On to the primaries and give the old machine a last lesson.

Go to the primaries and show your appreciation of a law that restores to you your rights in the electorate of the state.

Go to the primaries and nominate men who will conduct the affairs of the state as any ordinarily prudent and cautious man would conduct them, and not as the bipartisan machine politicians have conducted them.

The primary law should be a potent appeal to the sensible man and woman of the state. It should stir their patriotism and awaken them to a full realization of the duties of citizenship. It clothes them with a power whereby they can nominate men who will represent them as servants and not dictate to them as masters.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

WEEDS ON WAHSATCH AVENUE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Regarding the notice issued by the board of health in Saturday's Gazette with reference to permitting weeds to grow on lots, vacant or otherwise, I would call the attention of the board of health and of the commissioners of public works to the condition on Wahsatch avenue north of San Miguel street.

We have owned property in the 1400-block on Wahsatch avenue for more than seven years and during all that time I do not know of a single dollar that has been spent north of Columbia street with the exception of a little plowing at the Santa Fe crossing. We of the 1400-block pay our taxes just as regularly as other people are required to—but not a penny of the money is ever spent east of Weber street which street is always kept in fine condition, graded up in the center, graveled and rolled as far north as the 2000-block.

Noxious weeds, thistles, etc., grow in rank profusion on our street north of San Miguel, but that is the point at which all road graders and scrapers stop.

How would it be for the board of health to assess fines against the commissioner of public works and turn over the fines to those property owners living on this street where the weeds are growing, and let us do the work ourselves?

Three times this summer I have visited the office of this commissioner and entered my protest against such discrimination, but it avaleth me not.

The Colorado Springs company owns almost the entire property on the west side of the 1400-block, which is permitted to grow up to weeds and is a common dump ground—and it is a perfectly safe bet that they will neither clean up the lots nor pay a fine.

Again At San Miguel and Wahsatch is a street light and the next light is four blocks north, and the section between, including a dangerous railroad crossing, is as dark as it ever gets in Colorado.

To all of this I would ask the question, Why?

FROM OTHER PENS

HOMELESS ANIMALS.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger:
It is hard to understand the point of view of one who professes a fondness for dogs and cats and yet will complacently depart upon a vacation, leaving the trustful four-footed companions of the household to fend for themselves.

On any day of summer in the baking city streets one will find neglected and deserted animals in quest of food and water, their appearance pleading eloquently for relief and bearing mute witness against the cruelty of the owner who has taught that touching dependence which is now betrayed. Conscience is not to be stilled by the answer that there are institutions which make it their business to go into highways and byways rounding up the animals turned adrift, to the number of perhaps 600 in a day. It is the immediate concern of the owner of every animal to make provision for it, especially in summer, when many a street turns a blank and shelterless wall of boarded houses to bipeds as well as quadrupeds. "The merciful man is merciful to his beast," and next in the sufferings of humanity those of the dumb animals trained to depend upon man's make their forceful appeal.

KILLING OF FEMALE DEER.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer:
A memorandum, representing the views of the Hunters and Anglers Association of Pennsylvania, which is to be presented to the next legislature with 200,000 signatures, if that be possible, contains among other provisions a petition to legalize the killing of deer of either sex. At present the female deer is protected.

In its general tone this memorandum is excellent and will appeal to sportsmen. The reason, however, for the clause relating to the slaughter of female deer is not apparent, and it is doubtful if one that is sufficiently worthy could be given. Every consideration seems opposed to it. The principal one is that, if such a law went into effect, it would be impossible to prevent the speedy annihilation of deer in the forests of the state. As it is, the animals are becoming scarcer each year, and all action on the part of legislatures has been taken with a view to restricting the slaughter of them in the hope that the species may eventually multiply.

Few men with genuine sporting instincts would knowingly kill a doe, even if permitted to do so by law. There is something repugnant in the idea to the man, and especially the sportsman, of finer instincts. Those who do not possess such feelings should be restricted by law from following their own bent in the matter.

It is to be hoped that this memorandum as it stands will not get the signers the association hopes to secure and that the legislature will not consider it if it does.

DISCOVERING NATURE'S PROCESSES.

From the Kansas City Star:
"Synthetic product" is a phase of which people are hearing much, and will hear more in the future. Chemists are busy endeavoring to find out how nature makes valuable products, and striving to devise means for producing them in the laboratory. Synthetic means literally "putting together," and a synthetic product is a combination of elements. The chemists can separate almost any product into its elements, but they have not yet learned many of the processes whereby nature, through plants and animals, combine these elements into the useful products of the world. Some of these processes they have discovered, however.

Synthetic rubber is just now a favorite theme with the industrial chemist. A year or two ago it was synthetic camphor. Before that, the stock example was synthetic indigo.

According to the fable the fox once saluted king lion as though king. The lion didn't know what the new name meant and couldn't decide whether to feel flattered or insulted. The situation is about the same when a product labeled "synthetic" comes on the market. The public is not at all sure whether it is really as good as the natural substance or not.

The fact is that a synthetic product is exactly the same thing as the corresponding effect of nature. It is an imperfect imitation. The chemist fears about finding out exactly the chemical composition of the thing in question. Then he makes a compound of that composition in his laboratory. If he has made no mistake the two are identical. The chemist himself cannot tell the difference between nature's product and his own, when both are perfectly pure. Usually the natural substance contains a trace of some impurity not yet removed, and not formed at all by the laboratory method. It is only by testing for this impurity that the two can be distinguished.

When synthetic indigo appeared on the market the indigo planters argued that it was only an imitation. This was easily disproved; the two were identical. Their only other possible argument was that natural indigo contained certain impurities that improved its dyeing qualities. This was more ingenious, but no more successful.

But the mere synthesis is not sufficient to make the new synthetic substance a commercial product. Means must be found to produce it easily and cheaply enough to compete with the natural product. Synthetic camphor and rubber are both accomplished facts. The cost so far remains a little too high for commercial use. Any big improvement in the process for manufacturing rubber, such, for instance, as Sir William Perkin is said to have made recently, will be sufficient to put into use a new product, laboratory rubber. And the owners of rubber plantation will straightway begin to fight against the recognition of the fact that if there is any difference between artificial and natural rubber, it is that the latter is a little less pure.

Chemists have hopes of being able, in time, to make synthetic food products in the laboratory instead of depending entirely on the fields and the orchards for the necessities of life.

LITTLE RED SCHOOL UPHELD.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch:
Pedagogues in national convention recently had much to say about the backwardness of the rural schools and indulged in sweeping generalizations to that effect. The friends of the little red school house will be glad of prompt refutation of this slander, not by generalization, but by specific test.

Secretary Peter Newton of the United States civil service commission at Chicago, in issuing a call for 1,000 men to qualify for positions as clerks and carriers at the Chicago postoffice, has expressed a preference for graduates of country schools over Chicago-educated men. His reason is that at a recent special examination "two-thirds of the graduates of Chicago grammar schools failed in the simple examination, while graduates of schools in obscure communities passed without difficulty."

Mr. Newton does not attempt to offer an explanation. He merely states the fact. Can it be due in any measure to the fact that in the despised and backward rural schools the pupils are given a plain but practical education, while in Chicago the time of the children is frittered away on fads and foolishness?

After it was proposed to Franklin, the first persons who put it to the test of experiment were Messrs. Daland and Delor, who erected an apparatus for the express purpose, and were not a little jeered at for endangering their philosophical reputation by exhibiting themselves "en spectacle" to the world, in the bold attempt of drawing from the clouds the matter of the thunderbolt.

These energetic gentlemen, however, succeeded in proving, most satisfactorily, the truth of Franklin's theory: as did Franklin himself about a month afterward, but before he had heard anything of what they had done.

Franklin was awaiting for the erection of a spire in Philadelphia in order to verify his hypothesis, when it occurred to him, that by means of a common kite, he could have a readier and better access to the regions of thunder than by any spire whatever.

Preparing, therefore, a very large silk handkerchief, and two cross sticks of a proper length on which to extend it, he took the opportunity of the first approaching thunderstorm. But, desirous of avoiding the ridicule which too commonly attends unsuccessful experiments in science, he communicated his intended experiment to nobody but his son, who assisted him in raising the kite.

The kite being raised, a considerable time elapsed before there was any appearance of its being electrified. One very promising cloud had passed over, just as he was beginning to despair of his contrivance, he observed some loose threads of the hempen string to stand erect, and avoid one another just as if they had been suspended on a common conductor. Struck with the promising appearance, he presented his knuckle to the key, when he instantly perceived a very evident electric spark. Other sparks succeeded at short intervals, and when the string became wet with rain, electric fire was collected in abundance. The discovery, in short, was complete.

Dr. Franklin unhesitatingly acknowledged that his and discoveries in electricity were owing to Mr. P. Collinson, the botanist. He says: "Mr. Collinson transmitted to the Philadelphia library the earliest account of every new European improvement in agriculture and the arts, and every philosophical discovery; among which, in 1745, he sent over an account of the new German experiments in electricity, together with a glass tube, and some directions for using it, so as to repeat those experiments. This was the first notice I had of that curious subject, which I afterwards prosecuted with some diligence, being encouraged by the friendly reception he gave to the letters I wrote him."

THE HAPPY COUPLE.

From the Campbellsville, Ky., News-Journal:

Mr. Wilbur Gunter and Miss Virgie Tucker, a well-known young couple of Tallow Creek, came to town Monday and procured a marriage license to wed. Having made no provision for the tying of the nuptial knot they were at sea until the Rev. J. Stafford came to the rescue and the blushing young couple into the J. R. Davis grocery emporium and made them one. Everything is quiet along Tallow Creek tonight. We extend congratulations.

Before and After Taking

By RUTH CAMERON.

Two young people who were unusually reserved and undemonstrative during the six months of their engagement have developed into a surprisingly affectionate and demonstrative married couple. They have been married over two years and seem to grow steadily more affectionate in their manner towards each other.

A group of the wife's female friends were discussing this phenomenon.

"Why, when they were engaged I thought John was the most undemonstrative lover I ever saw!" one of the girls contributed, "and I said, 'Goodness, if he's like this before marriage, what will he be afterwards?' But I never saw such a change in my life. He can hardly keep his hands off Barbara even in public, and every time he looks at her you feel as if he were kissing her and you ought to go out of the room. That after they've been married two years!"

"And Barbara's just as bad, too," put in the wife's most intimate friend. "You know before she was married she was the strictest thing. She wouldn't even let John kiss her until they were actually engaged with a ring, though they had an understanding long before that. And now she's just as affectionate as he is. Isn't it queer?"

In the group of girls was one young married woman—a bride of six months. The intimate friend turned to her. "Well, Jane, what do you say?" she asked lightly. "Is it that way in your family, too?"

The unconscious sigh which Jane gave as she answered was a keener commentary on her answer than she would probably have deliberately given. "Oh, no," she said, rather bitterly, "nothing like that. We did all our lovemaking before we were married."

There was a little silence while some of the girls recalled what an excessively demonstrative lover Jane's had been, and how very different he was as a husband, and then someone opened another subject with nervous haste.

How many couples there are who could explain not only postnuptial undemonstrativeness, but far graver troubles by that sentence, "We did all our lovemaking before we were married."

The question of how far lovemaking should go before marriage is something besides a moral question. It is also a question of expediency, as many girls who have married after ultra-fervid courtships can readily testify.

I know some girl who is even now committing such indiscretions as thinking, "But my case is different. I know my lover will never tire of me."

Is it not a queer quirk of human nature that makes us all so sure that OUR cases are always different?

No little girl, it's ten million to one that your case isn't different. And I wish with all my heart that you might hear the bitterness and the sigh that went with that bridle revelation. If you could, I'm sure you would never give yourself reason to say, "We did all our lovemaking before we were married."

TICKETS NOW ON SALE FOR BALLOON RACE AND BIG MASQUERADE BALL

Tickets are now on sale at the Sun Drug company, on Pikes Peak avenue, for admission to the balloon grounds, next Wednesday afternoon, when the great national race will start at Washburn field. Tickets also may be had at the same place for the masquerade ball Tuesday night.

The general admission to witness the start of the balloon race is 25 cents, but an extra charge of 25 cents will be made for seats in the grandstand. Automobiles will be admitted to the grounds, but horses will be excluded. A charge of 25 cents for each person entering the grounds in an automobile will be made, and also 25 cents for occupying seats in the automobile.

The gas for filling the balloons will be piped to Washburn field from the corner of Cascade avenue. It will take a vast amount of gas to fill the three big balloons, and the work will be started the night before so that the company can supply its patrons and at the same time make sufficient gas for the balloons.

Tickets for the balloon race and also for the masquerade ball should be reserved early, as undoubtedly there will be an unusually large rush of people, and an early sale will facilitate matters in handling the crowd.

Progressive Republicans Meet Tomorrow Evening

Progressive Republicans in Ward 2, Precinct 2, will hold a meeting at the residence of John Pring, 319 West Kiowa street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Several good speakers will make short talks, and a social time will be had. All citizens, whether Progressive Republicans or not, are invited to attend and listen to the discussion of the political issues now before the people. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Progressive Republican club of the precinct, the membership of which includes a large majority of the Republican voters.

AT THE CARNIVAL, ROCKY FORD WATERMELON DAY

The event that has spread the fame of Rocky Ford all over the world and directed attention to the wonderful agricultural products of Colorado. Due to late snows and cool summer showers, crop yields in the Arkansas valley promise to be the most abundant in the history of the state, which insures a finer farm products exhibit than ever before.

A greater live stock display and an unusual program of running and trotting races, cowboy relay races, wild mile races have been arranged for on Thursday, September 5.

The Santa Fe has made a rate of $3.50 for tickets goal during the fair week and $4.50 for watermelon day. On that day, September 5, a special train will leave Colorado Springs at 7 a.m. and returning late. Rocky Ford at 7:05 p.m.

Miss Weiland, buyer for the Hub ladies' ready-to-wear department, has just returned from Boston, Philadelphia and New York, where she purchased a new fall stock of ladies' ready-to-wear garments.

EPWORTH LEAGUES PICNIC

A union picnic of the Epworth Leagues of the various churches of the city will be held tomorrow evening in North Cheyenne canon, the party leaving Stratton park pavilion at 6:30 o'clock. Those who desire to take part in the picnic are asked to bring basket lunches. All out-of-town members of the society now in the Pikes Peak region are especially invited.

Attention is called to the business announcement of Mr. John Lennox in this issue.

Colored Procession Republicans Are Active

The Colored Progressive Republican club held an enthusiastic meeting at the court house last night, and the room was crowded throughout the evening. The club has secured headquarters in the Barnes building, which will be opened this morning, in charge of Mrs. Julia Embry, editor of the Colorado Springs Eagle.

Business Announcement JOHN LENNOX

After a careful study of the situation, I am convinced that the most valuable undeveloped resource within the reach of Colorado Springs is agriculture as it relates itself especially to dairying, poultry raising and diversified stock raising.

No one who has studied the problem of dry farming deeply now questions the fact that under proper methods practically all of the eighteen million acres of land in Colorado not susceptible of irrigation can be made to produce foreign crops every year. These crops properly cared for and fed to dairy cows and other stock will make thousands of farmers prosperous which in turn will make our cities and towns prosperous.

The problem of the dry farmers is, first, learning the method, and this some in every community are doing very rapidly; and second, getting a small amount of money at a reasonable rate of interest to buy cows, secure title to their land, build sites and put the method in operation. Believing the foregoing to be facts capable of practical demonstration and dependable as a business basis, I have decided to open an office in the Texan Building, No. 228 N. Tejon St., for the purpose of handling real estate loans and investments in general and eastern Colorado agricultural loans and business in particular.

Safe and safe business methods will be adhered to with a view to establishing confidence among capitalists and in commercial centers in agricultural loans and investments, and at the same time place within the reach of responsible farmers small loans at a reasonable rate of interest with which to develop industries known to be successful and profitable in the dry farming sections of our state.

It should be clearly understood that this program is educational throughout and cannot be made operative in a day, or without capital. I am, therefore, asking at this time three things. First, that bankers and brokers withhold judgment till they investigate scientific dry farming as it is proposed to apply it to eastern Colorado. Second, that capitalists and others with money to invest who want, their money to earn good interest backed by securities which will not depreciate, while the world stands, allow me to handle some portion of their surplus along these lines; and third, that open headed, industrious farmers give to this program their support and cooperation.

My 10 years' residence in Colorado Springs should give me a fair knowledge of real estate, loan and investment values in and around the city, and I respectfully solicit business in all these lines. In order to start the ball rolling and give me a chance to prove my faith in my work, I herewith offer my Tejon street building known as The Texan, for sale at a price far below what it could be built for today and upon terms of part cash, balance on time, or will construct a part in well-located land or game.

At the Theater

TIME, PLACE AND THE GIRL
DOING RECORD BUSINESS AT THE OPERA HOUSE

At the Grand Opera house this week, with matinee, Friday and Saturday, James Hawley and Garrick Players are presenting for the first time as a stock production, "Maud, II.

tractions open September 9, with Cohan and Harris' "Officer 656."

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

PEOPLE TURNED AWAY

As this paper goes to press, Manager
Garrick of the Garrick Players wishes to announce that many people were

MISS NINA GILBERT.

With James Hawley and Garrick Players. Now Presenting "The Time, the Place and the Girl" at the Opera House This Week, Matinee Today.

Sister's greatest musical comedy. "The Time, the Place and the Girl."

Fifty people are seen in the production.

James Hawley is seen in the role of "Happy Johnny Hicks."

Gretchen Kaert is seen in the role of "Molly."

James G. Fisher as Tom Channing and a pal to Johnny Hicks.

Miss Nina Gilbert is seen as Margaret Simpson, and a more clever impersonation of the role was not seen here with the $2.00 road attraction. She being a sweet little person who wins over the hearts of the audience the second she steps on the stage. In her song numbers, "Don't You Tell" and "Lonesome Tonight," she takes encore after encore at each performance.

As a scenic production this piece has never been surpassed in stock at popular prices in this city.

Eight of the prettiest chorus girls are seen in a local stage act seen, being all professional performers with real voices.

This morning will be the success of the season as already hundreds of seats have been sold. With every box seat in the theater sold to seven theater parties, numbering 250.

The parties will be reserved on Friday and Saturday's matinee at 35 cents.

By the heavy advance sale of seats which is the largest in the history of a stock engagement in this city, the theater will be packed nightly this week.

No advance in prices is the motto.

Matinee, evenings 15c, 25c, 35c and 45c. Matinee, children 10c, adults 25c. Main, 75c.

This is the farewell week of the Hawley company, as the Colorado Springs Opera House company will close the theater two weeks for extensive repairs, as the regular road at-comes.

More people have witnessed "The Talk of New York" in the first three performances than "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" and the audience has been more enthusiastic in favor of the former.

Not even excepting "The Virginian," the best of the New York critics have devoted more space to "Pierre of the Plains" than any other legitimate play in the last 10 years.

All the newspaper talk in the land won't appear a dissatisfied amusement patron, but the excellent things that are being said about our production of "Talk of New York" is certain to fill the theater for the rest of this week.

Good Meat

It is harder to get now than ever. It is high and the market is being flooded with low-priced meat of a very inferior quality.

We will continue to handle the best grade exclusively because we believe you want it. There is nothing more unsatisfactory than poor meat.

Better buy your meat here and be sure it is good.
